1973 COLONIAL

Shrewsbury High School Shrewsbury, Mass.

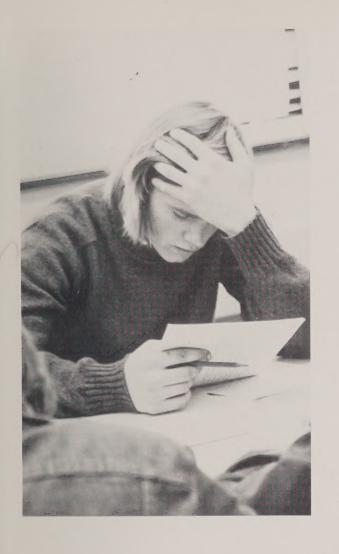

You gotta free me, cause I can't breathe unless I got room to move.

1972-1973 Freedom.....

Once upon a time, there was an overcrowded suburban high school that decided to relieve the problem of too many students.

They didn't build a new wing.

They revised the whole schedule. They extended the school day hours, and gave each student a different day off.

Some laughed,

some grinned,

some waited,

some turned their backs and walked away,

and others
didn't know what to do.....

Mr. Ralph A. Yagjian, Vice Principal

Mr. John W. Jacobs, Assistant Principal

Administration

Mr. Joseph J. Montecalvo, Vice Principal

The Shrewsbury High School Administration and School Committee are known for their open minds and have always strived to give Shrewsbury students the best education possible. When we became overcrowded, they knew they had to find a solution. And they decided that the best possible solution was to extend the school day and give each student a different day off, revise the old system, and relieve the overcrowdedness.

It was complicated and difficult, and it brought a lot of headaches, but it also brought a spirit of optimism and determination.

Shrewsbury was experimenting and revolutionizing.

Mr. Robert Cormier.

Mr. Irving Agard, Superintendent

English

The English Department has offered us new courses too numerous to mention. These courses are open to all students in any grade, and classes are a mixture of seniors, sophomores and juniors.

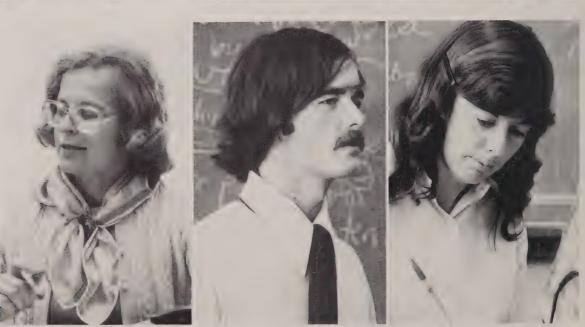

Mr. Allan L. Smallidge, Director Miss Jennifer L. Boeh

Mr. James E. Cantwell Mrs. Frances M. Cellucci Mrs. Marie-Therese Daly

Mrs. Johanna K. DuBois Mr. John T. Hodgen Miss Judith A. Hubbard

Mr. Donald T. Nicholson Mrs. Nancy M. Ober, Librarian Mrs. Betty Pelletz

Mrs. Linda A. Pouliot Mr. Kevin Jay Rose Miss Beatrice L. Tosi

Mr. John Tsombakos Mrs. Kathleen Viscardi Mr. Donald E. Winters, Jr.

Mathematics

Shrewsbury High's Math Department excels. Whether a student is taking Algebra I or Calculus and Trigonometry, he can be certain that when he is finished with his studies, he will have received an excellent background for college and business.

Mr. John W. Jacobs, Director Mr. George A. Cote

Mr. William J. Coulter, Jr. Mrs. Mary F. Hastings Mrs. Marie D. Henry

Miss Christine M. Dowd Mr. James S. Horgan Mr. Thomas J. Kirklauskas

Mrs. Patricia Kupcinskas Mr. Joseph A. Lalli Mr. Linwood L. Workman, Jr.

Art

The Art Department has expanded this year by adding two new teachers and several new courses. The students' efforts, whether it is sculpture, ceramics, paintings, or sketches, decorate the halls and the main offices at S.H.S.

Mrs. Linda Montello Mrs. Patricia A. Streeter Mr. Don D. Wilson

Social Studies

American History, World History, Sociology, Psychology, Geography, you name the subject, and the Social Studies Department probably teaches it. Field trips, clubs and Student Exchange make this Department one of the busiest and most interesting.

Mr. Frederick J. White, Director Mr. John D. Brunell

Mr. Nicrolas DiPilato, Jr. Mr. Salvador R. Ferreira Mr. George A. James

Mr. Donald F. Kaminski Mr. Paul P. Lavelle Mr. Thomas A. Maruca

Mr. Daniel P. Mulcahy Miss Anne C. Murphy Miss Mary Jane Murray

Music

The Shrewsbury High School Music Department is one of the best in the area. They are always busy with concerts, or marching at football games or in parades, and giving a lively, entertaining musical each March. This year music students are actively participating in the new theory class, voice class, music and related arts, and various orchestration classes.

Mr. Louis J. Vella, Director Mr. Jack E. Feldheimer Mr. Ralph Metcalf

Science

Like the other departments, the Science Department has also offered newer and better courses. Physiology, Biology, and Chemistry are offered as well as a new class called the Introduction to Medicine, which is offered at night on the C schedule.

Miss Lois E. Litz, Director Miss Judith A. Anderson

Mr. Craig R. Barrows Mr. John J. Connelly Mr. William C. Donovan

Mr. Donald W. Pottle Dr. Emil R. Smith

Home Economics

C corridor is the best smelling corridor in the whole school, due to the cooking and baking of the Chef class and cooking class. And that's the place where you'll find students busily sewing and designing clothes for themselves and their families.

Miss Alice Hanley, Director Miss Shirley A. Maloney Mrs. Helen Sweeney

Language

You can say it in French, Spanish, Italian, or German, but in English it's, "The Shrewsbury Language Department is on the move."

This year students are able to learn German and Italian on the B schedule, and this proves that due to the new extended day program at Shrewsbury, we are expanding—internationally.

Miss Helen M. Parks, Director

Mrs. Sara F. Ford Miss Pauline S. Howard Miss Natalie T. Koziara

Mr. Richard R. LaCroix Mr. Henry A. Sullivan Mrs. Muriel E. Tinkham

Physical Education

1972 is the first year freshmen and sophomores are required to take gym four days a week, and the juniors and seniors are not required to take gym at all. But, there are many students interested in physical fitness and many are participating in gym classes at night on the C schedule.

Business Education

B corridor is noisy everyday. Over a hundred typewriters and a data processing class are all going at the same time make a lot of healthy noise. Because if it's noisy, the students are learning. Bookkeeping, Shorthand, Typing, these, plus many other courses make up the Business Department.

Miss Mildred G. Shea, Director

Mrs. Anna K. Belanger

Mr. J. Michael Bibeau Miss Karen E. Boyer Miss Mary T. Donelan

Mr. Edward C. Garvey, Jr. Mr. Richard D. Gow Mr. Richard L. Tivnan Mr. Peter M. Zona

Industrial Arts

Each year, the Industrial Arts students make chairs, tables, lamps, stools, and they learn how to build electric motors, and how to wire electric circuits and outlets. With the help of the teachers, some even progress to building a tractor out of spare parts.

Mr. Clifford H. Fountaine, Director

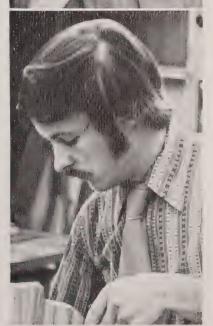

Guidance

The hardest working people are the guidance counselors. They developed the master schedule and worked all summer on placing students in classes. Now, they are devising and revising schedules, counseling students and parents, and administring college boards.

Mr. James J. Dorsey, Jr., Coordinator

Mr. Norman G. Limoges

Mr. John R. McGinn Mr. Peter O'Malley Mrs. Edith J. Patterson

Mr. Edward A. Siff Miss Elizabeth H. Stanton Mrs. Evelyn J. Whitcomb

Personnel

These are the people that you never see or hear about, but they're vitally important to our school.

Whether they are custodians, secretaries, or clerks, they all do their jobs equally well and it shows.

Mrs. Dorothy A. Bergstrom

Mrs. Marion I. Casten Mrs. June C. Jardarian Mrs. Carol A. Luthman

Mrs. Louise E. Perez Mrs. Rita Tougas Mrs. Vivian B. Westberg

In Appreciation

In our four years here at S.H.S., we have experienced many changes, some good and some bad. And the people who guided and helped us through those times were our advisers.

Mrs. Sara F. Ford

Mr. Francis Holmes

To Our Advisers

Freshman dance, sophomore crewshirts, the junior play and the prom, yearbook and the Senior Ball, no matter what the problem or hassle, our advisers were there to help us.

They worked for the class and with the class. We all worked together, but without them, it wouldn't have been possible.

Thank you.

There is no wrong side
or right side.
No misery in not being loved,
only in not loving.
I learned these truths myself
to tell them to you now,
as you go sailing through the sun
on your way toward life.

It's alright; that is,
it's not too bad.
Nothing to get hung about.
It's all wrong; that is,
I disagree.
What do you want to be
Now that you've traveled far,
far as the eye can see.

Frances Ann Abdella

Once in an age, God sends to some of us a friend who loves in us, not a false-imagining, an unreal character, but, looking through the rubbish of our imperfections, loves in us the divine ideal of our nature—loves, not the man that we are, but the angel that we may be.

"Al" . . . quiet and easy-going . . . watch out for those mysterious eyes . . . often seen in a little yellow bug . . . likes the Rolling Stones . . . loves parties and weekends . . . never heard of geometry! . . . would like to go into a business world of his own.

Paula Cheryl Alicandro

I've wandered along the highways and byways of life, Searching for a quiet place, and a gentle breeze.

In my wanderings, I've met humanity—
The musician, the workman, the friend, and the lover.
In their eyes, I've read of laughter, love, and joy.
I've seen their reaching and searching for happiness.
Their hearts sang to me of caring, sharing, and understanding.

Let's drink to the hardworking people,
Let's drink to the lowly of birth,
Raise your glass to the good and the evil,
Who raise the fires and who still till the earth.

Patrice Jeanne Amero

"Every long journey begins with the first step."

Life is great just because of friends we've made, and things which in common we share;
We want to live on, not just for ourselves, but because of people who care.
It's giving and doing for somebody else . . . on that life's splendor depends.
And the joy of this world, when you've summed it all up is found in the making of friends.

Made a rag pile of my shiny clothes
Just another mad mad day on the road
The sound of strangers sending nothing to my mind
I am just living to be lying by your side
For I am sleeping under strange strange skies
Just another mad mad day on the road
My dreams are fading down the railway lines
I'm just about a moonlight mile on down the road.
Jagger, Richards

We should always leave the shadow, Seek the sunshine of a smile; Never is a day so darkened that The hours are not worthwhile.

Frank Jay Iovieno

Music is playing inside my head—
Over and over and over again—
My friend, there's no end to the music—
Ah, summer is over,
But the music keeps playing
And won't let the cold get me down.
The music keeps playing
And won't let the world get me down.

We hope she will continue to search for what she has discovered here—friends, good times, education, but most of all, understanding.

Hans John Peter Lundin

Peter came to Shrewsbury for vacation last year, liked it very much, and arrangements were made for him to go to SHS for one year. He has been very happy here. He has been an important factor on the soccer team, playing very well. He hopes for a career in economics when he goes home to Sweden next year, and, of course, he would like to make a return visit to the U.S.A. someday.

Kathleen Lundy

And I awoke one morning with the birds singing And the sun dripping across my face; The soft rustling of the leaves as the wind Caressed the trees; Puffs of clouds Ran spinning across the forehead of dawn . . . The otherwise silent birth of day told me For the first time:

Peter D. Lusignan

And when it was night,
So sad was their plight;
The sun it went down,
And the moon gave no light,
They sobbed and they bitterly cried,
And the poor little things,
They lay down and died.

Dennis Lyden

As long as there's music With plenty of soul, Then all I can say Is that we'll continue to roll.

The roads that I travel, what have I to fear?

What a coward I'd be
If I tried not to see

The roses of hope and the sunshine of cheer.

ceased to live.

Nancy Susan Perri

... ever and forever I am only in myself. I can find no rest in my many chambers, the stillest of them is like a single cry.

I have finally found a way to live, Just like I never could before. I know that I don't have much to give, But I can open any door.

Jeanne Royal Pierce

"To be with uncertainty is our heritage today."

Sometimes I can laugh and cry

And I can't remember why,

But I still love those good times gone by,

Hold on to them close or let them go.

I don't know I just seem to sing these songs

And say I'm sorry for the friends I used to know.

For yours you will do
And yours you will see,
The question not answered
Is what you will be.
Your mind must be conquered,
And body controlled,
And yourself must be found
With the wisdom you hold.

Theresa E. Ross

In the wall are many doors. Be patient, search with diligence, for one will open to your key, and the land beyond is very fair. . .

I expect to pass through this world but once.
Any good thing, therefore, that I can do,
Or any kindness I can show to any human being—
Let me do it now.
Let me not defer nor neglect it;
For I shall not pass this way again.

Joanne Shumak

Don't be in a hurry to succeed. What would you have to live for afterwards? Better make the horizon your goal; it will always be ahead of you.

Beverly Anne Simmler

It is my joy in life to find,
At every turning of the road,
The strong arm of a comrade kind
To help me with my load.
And since I have no gold to give,
And love alone must make amends,
My only prayer is, while I live—
God make me worthy of my friends.

Margaret Mary Simone

There are places I'll remember
All my life; though some have changed . . .
Some forever; not for better
Some have gone; and some remain . . .
All these places had their moments
with lovers and friends I still recall . . .
Some are dead and some are living
In my life I've loved them all.

Charlene Noel Sireci

If man does not keep pace with his companions,
Perhaps it is because he hears a different drummer.
Let him step to the music he hears,
However measured and far away.

Memory, like tapestry
Sets forth in colors gay,
The hopes, the dreams, the happiness
That blessed our yestersay.
Golden threads for golden deeds,
Rosy tints for dreams come true;
For friendships earned and friendships held
Are tints of heavenly blue.

There's a path that leads to a door that opens unto life—all you have to do is find that path and you're halfway there.

Georgia J. Mongeon

"The little cares that fretted me, I lost them yesterday."

If you should forget me for a while and afterwards remember, do not grieve; for if the darkness and corruption leave a vestige of the thoughts that once I had, better by far that you forget and smile than that you should remember and be sad.

Mary Ellen O'Brien

There are places I'll remember
All my life, though some have changed;
Some forever, not for better,
Some have gone, and some remain . . .
All these places had their moments
With lovers and friends, I still recall . . .
Some are dead and some are living,
In my life, I've loved them all.

Virginia Zoe Ogozalek

"Those who bring sunshine into the lives of others cannot keep it from themselves."

I love you because you are weak before the strong oppressor, and poor before the greedy rich. For these reasons I shed tears and comfort you; and from behind my tears I see you embraced in the arms of Justice, smiling and forgiving your persecutors. You are my brother and I love you.

Jean Anne Breau
The Soul selects her own society,
Then shuts the door;
On her divine majority
Obtrude no more.

Karen Rossi

Time is not beyond you, Your age is not against you. All things come in time. Hold on to your childhood dreams, There is more than what you've seen. Eventually all will rhyme.

Morning Has Broken

presented by
The Class of 1973
on Friday evening

November 24, 1972 at Shrewsbury High School

Captain Tim Alarie and head cheerleader Karen Gremo cut the victory dance cake.

Football Team and Cheerleaders; 1st row: J. Padavano, S. Washkevich, M. Brisebois, T. Alarie, K. Gremo, D. Knipe, G. Clark, S. Shannon, J. Catanzaro, N. Todisco. 2nd row: P. Haynes, J. Padavano, J. Johnson, E. Surabian, E. Parmenter, A. Kelley, K. Ryder.

Do you think we'll get picked for the best dancers?

My girdle is killing me.

Our queen for the evening was Martha Sullivan.

And our runner up was David Brown.

Morning has broken like the first morning blackbird has spoken like the first bird praise for the singing praise for the morning praise for them springing fresh from the world sweet and rains new fall on the first garden sprung in completeness where his feet pass mine is the sunlight mine is the morning born of one light Eden saw play praise with elation praise every morning God's recreation of the new day morning has broken.

CLASS B AND MIDLAND LEAGUE CHAMPIONS

When Coach Mario Marchisio fielded the SHS football team in August he knew he was going to have his hands full . . . full of talent. The crop of veterans from the 1971 Midland League championship club all returned this year with the necessary components to play winning football: Size, speed, and a hungry look called determination.

We gratefully acknowledge the courtesy of the Worcester Telegram and Evening Gazette for the use of the athletic photos.

We also thank Mr. James Cantwell of our English Department for his courtesy and assistance.

An angry mob of Shrewsbury defenders swarm about the harassed Algonquin quarterback.

Swift runners like Marc Brisebois (right) and Joel Kimball (left) kept the Colonial's powerful offensive machine churning upfield.

Campbell, I tried Scope this morning and . . .

Fred Porcaro hogties a Wachusett runner and jars loose the pigskin.

In the opener on September 23rd, a stubborn band of Marlboro Panthers put up a strong defensive battle. But the lone TD they relinquished was all the Colonials needed for 7-0 triumph.

The following Saturday, Shrewsbury's offense got the chance to flex its muscles against Maynard. Their punishing ground game led by the rushing of Jimmy Catanzaro crushed the Tigers 31-13.

The third game of the season was against a highly touted Algonquin team. The Colonial defenses throttled the Tomahawk wishbone offense and Mark Sweet's booming forty yard field goal put the finishing touch on a 9-0 victory.

The Clinton Gaels were no match for Shrewsbury's well-oiled machine. The Colonials snatched off a 19-0 win.

Marc Brisebois power and speed propelled the Colonials past an angry nest of Hudson Hawks. Shrewsbury shunned away the Hudson team's second half rally with a splendid display of their own. Final Score 19-8.

The Colonials continued their winning ways with a 20-14 victory over the Pioneers of St. John's. Shrewsbury, fired up after an official awarded St. John's a second rate touchdown, completely dominated over the crosstown rivals.

The victory skein ended in the seventh game of the season. The Fitchburg Red Raiders crashed helmets with the Colonials for Central Massachusetts supremacy and won 12-0.

Shrewsbury pulled out a squeaker against the weak Milford Scarlets. The Colonials were still recovering from their only loss the week before.

On Thanksgiving, Shrewsbury returned to top form. While the turkeys were being roasted, the Wachusett Mountaineers were being grilled. Steve Washkevich, the Ted Stimet's Award winner, and Marc Brisebois ground out a 28-6 win.

The impressive 8-1 record of the Colonials gave them the Class B crown. And the Class B crown gave them the right to face East Longmeadow (9-0) for the Western Massachusetts Championship. The division game played at Springfield was a close one. Shrewsbury fell victim to the toe of Rand Williard, a young man whose first career field goal gave East Longmeadow a 10-7 championship victory.

All-star Mark Sweet's foot was one of the best in Massachusetts throughout the season . . .

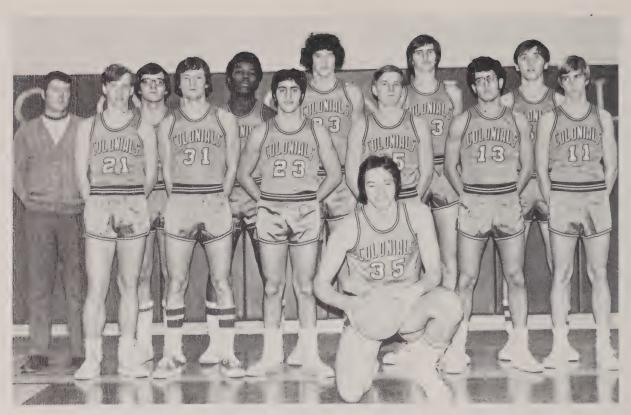

... ironically, it was the little known toe of Rand Williard which sunk the Colonials hopes of attaining the Western Division II Championship.

Seniors-well done!

Basketball is a high tension sport. With two minutes left in a game and a tie score, nerves become as frazzled as French Fries. The screaming crowd and the steaming gym are not exactly sedatives. In these crucial stages of the fourth quarter, poise and confidence are of top priority. The players and coaches must keep their cool. Coach Thomas Hennighan's well drilled Colonials played well in these hairraising moments. The winning tradition of the hardwood at SHS once again bounced onward.

Sean Smith converts a steel for two points.

The word to describe this year's Winter Track team is explosive. The supply of talent that Coach Nicholas Dipilato was given to utilize was nearly immeasurable, and the coach skillfully kept the team intent on one thing . . . top performance. The Co-Ionials in only their second year completely devastated most of their opponents. The assortment of speedsters, endurance runners, and weight men melted into a unified squad had the other teams baffled. Even with the onesided victories, the Colonials will remember best their performance in the league relay meet. There they tied Ashland, the perennial league champion, for the top spot.

Cross Country

Frank Carroll and Peter Whitney are mere blurs as they streak through the wooded Clinton course.

That sweet smell of victory was filtering through the locker room walls of the cross country team very early this year. No one could deny that this flock was perhaps the swiftest ever to don the blue and gold sweatsuits. Their natural ability combined with the fire which Coach Munzner seems to set beneath them had the Colonials hotfooting-it to the Midland League crown. An early season loss was the only one along the trek to a 10-1 record.

Shrewsbury did not relegate itself to Midland League competition alone. With an impressive showing in the Knights of Columbus race and a surprising second place in the Wachusett Invitational the Colonials gained widespread recognition. The formula for such achievement was a simple one: hard work, a bubbling spirit, and a complete team effort.

Another first place for Squid.

Gary Salerno, an almost impenetrable goalie.

1972 was Shrewsbury High's first year of competition in the world's most popular sport. Although being about one hundred years late in starting, the Colonials proved that they could learn fast. Coach Dennis Hursey took all newcomers and molded them into a hustling, aggressive team. The coach utilized his player's quickness and desire to offset the opponents experience and finesse.

Co-captain Tony Catanzaro and Paul Josephson led the scrappy club to a great upset over Auburn. The Colonials were not beaten severely in any meet, certainly a credit to a rookie team. And that is also an indication that when old man experience is on the side of the Colonials victories will be plentiful.

Those ballet lessons paid off, huh Kenny.

It's tough to penetrate that Shrewsbury defense.

The sports programming at SHS is on the upswing, but Baseball has been at its peak for many seasons. Although the sluggers don't receive the student support they deserve, they have been a strong yearly contender in the Midland League and always a top rated Central Mass. team. The Colonial blend of a tight, alert defense and a hit and run offense has led to remarkable success. Speedsters like Tim Alarie, sluggers like Fred Poracaro, and pitchers like Paul Josephsen have once again kept the SHS Baseball rolling.

Faster than a speeding bullet, more powerful than a locomotive, able to leap tall obstacles in a single bound. These phrases could be used to describe the ability of the members of the girls' varsity track team which is presently in its second year of competition. And we're proud to say that our girls have done so well in their meets.

A new organization this year is the Shrewsbury High School Letterman's Club. Under the supervision of advisors Mr. Michael Kleminich, Mr. Thomas Nault, and Mr. Dennis Hursey the club got off to a great start. The purpose of the club is to promote support for all athletic teams, set up standards for athletes to follow and to raise funds to provide awards for championship teams, and outstanding individual athletes at the annual sports banquet in May. The selling of calendars on which were printed the schedules of all athletic teams was the first fund raising project of the club, which proved to be a success. A dance and the selling of football shirts also brought a boost to the class treasury. Through hard work the club brought its first year to end with the planning of the sports banquet. A special thanks to all the athletes and supporters who have made this club a success and the best of luck in years to come.

Shrewsbury High School finally achieved direct communication with the School Committee. A five member student board was set up to discuss student affairs with the committee. The fact that the students views on topics like vandalism, coke machines, and dances were met with open ears, and that is a good sign for the future progress in student-administration relations.

GEORGE M!

March 8, 9, 10, 11th, 1973

This March, the Music Department produced the musical comedy "George M!" It is the story of George M. Cohan, his life and his music. It is the hardest show ever undertaken and presented by the department because of cost, costumes, sets, chorus work, and trying to teach sixty kids how to tap dance in three months. The show was also unique in that in years before, only three performances were given, whereas this year there were three performances at night and a special Sunday matinee.

Miss Breen patiently tries to teach us how to tap dance.

Rita you're so tall that you'll have to hem your knees or let down your skirt.

Give our regards to Broadway!

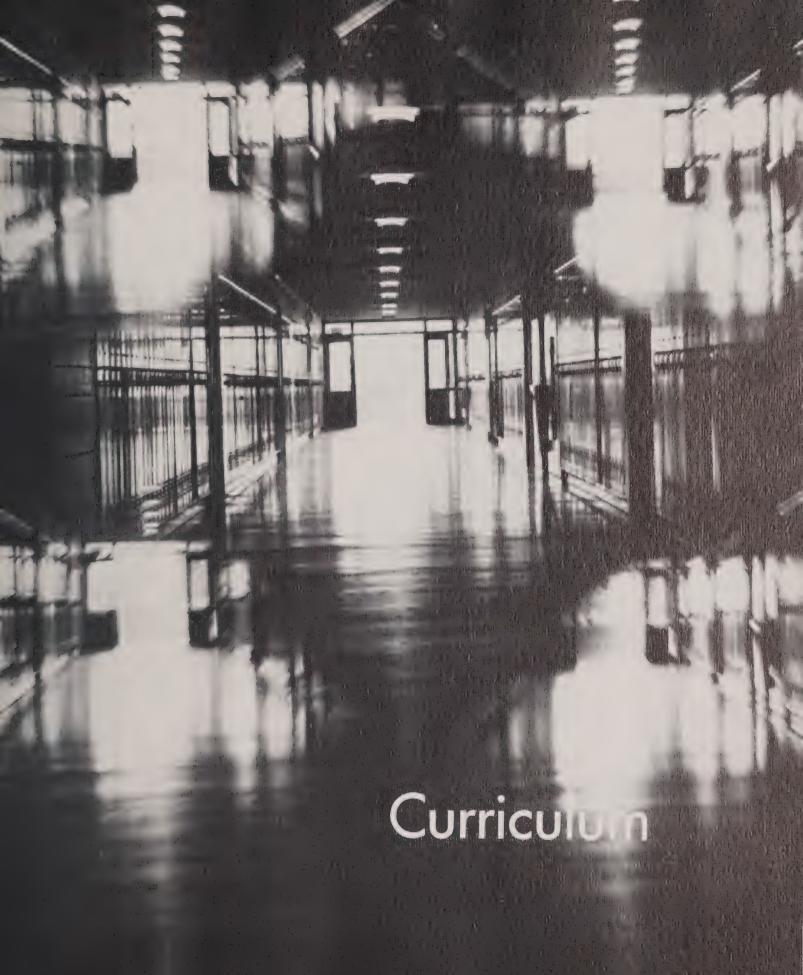

Eeeny, meeny, miny, moe, catch a brownie by his toe, if he hollers—don't eat it!

Mr. Montecalvo always has something cooking.

Welcome to the Shrewsbury High Hotel. (S.H.H. . . . don't tell anyone about it.) The place where you can be awarded six demerits for cutting a class on your day off. Or, for those of us that never cut a class, there is a second prize—a Progress Report stating that you, Howard High School student, just flunked Girls' Gym. In other words, the gym teachers caught you taking a shower when you're only supposed to put water on your shoulders. But that's all right. You're only a freshman—you'll catch on.

And now, for the first time ever in print, a behind the scenes peek at the Four Day Week.

Part 1

To Check In or Not to Check In

At 8 A.M. (or 9, or maybe 10, or if you're lucky 11 A.M.) you enter the hallowed halls of SHS and check in at Mr. Yagjian's office. He is the newest addition to the Administration: official title—Vice-Principal, but affectionately known as the "desk clerk". Ring a bell and he's at your service, cigar in one hand, ice cream in the other. Of course, if he's not there and you manage to escape the clutches of Mrs. Bergstrom and Mrs. Casten, known as the assistant desk clerks, you can "forget" to sign in and go only to the classes you like—study and lunch.

Part II

Partytime or Pounds and Pimples

If you're lucky enough and smart enough to make your own schedule, and if you have a car, or a friend with a car, or a friend with a friend with a car, or if you're wild enough—a motorcycle, you can hightail it to Howie's for breakfast! (If you have any money left over from breakfast, you can hit the pizzaria for lunch.) And yet, there are those true blue and gold connoisseurs of fine food who delight in feeding their faces at the Snack Bar, another added attraction at SHH

Part III

But I'm an atheist, I don't want to take Comparative Religions!!

The new scheduling gives a lot of freedom, particularly to juniors and seniors. They are permitted to work out their own courses for the most part. Meanwhile . . . back at the Peanut Gallery, the freshmen and sophomores are sweating through four days of gym. They are maintaining great physical health and it is rumored that they will join forces to overpower the juniors and seniors, who are slowly but surely eating their way into oblivion and out of SHH.

WARNING to faculty and administration: the upperclassmen have determined that underclassmen may be hazardous to your health. Don't say we didn't warn you!

The new wave of progressive education floating around the country has flooded SHS this year. We can now CHOOSE our REQUIRED courses!!

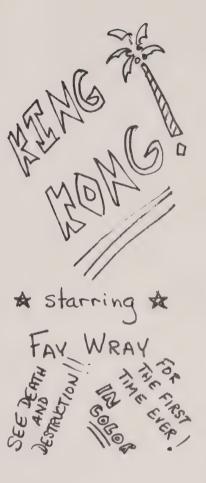

English classes include:

Reading Improvement which includes Mad Mag, Superman, and the Boston Phoenix.

Composition which helps you write descriptive paragraphs about what you did on your vacation or your favorite animal.

Modern Fiction: King Kong vs. Godzilla

Understanding Fiction: King Kong vs. Godzilla—with pictures!!

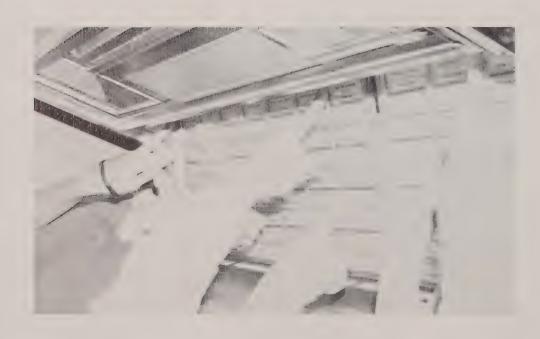

And, if you are musically inclined, you can join the Music Theater Workshop. Requirements this year were that you must have at least one leg and know how to tap dance.

Seriously though, the majority will agree that the new Extended Day Flexible Schedule program or the Four Day Week has served its purpose which was to relieve overcrowding.

Along with this, it has provided an opportunity for students to enjoy a wider variety of courses which are most relevant to each student's interests. The atmosphere this year is more relaxed because we have been given more freedom. Freedom to choose our own courses. Freedom to come and go on Senior Privilege. Freedom to find what we want out of life and out of school.

Unfortunately, there are some students, who due to the more flexible program, have become too relaxed and have failed to accept the responsibilities that always accompany freedom, whether it is in school or not. They have abused privileges and have not, for one reason or another, been able to handle the newly acquired freedom.

There are many problems to be worked out, and we're sure they will be in time. We don't want to give the impression that the new schedule has caused Shrewsbury High a lot of problems or has turned the school into a zoo. We make fun of the new system, because it has worked so well, and because it does have crazy problems and creates strange situations.

On the contrary, many students actively participate in the extended day schedule. (B schedule: 2-4 p.m., C schedule: 7-9 p.m.) On their day off, students can sleep, go on COE (Career Opportunity Education), make up work missed, work, go shopping, and do anything they want. Even though they do have a day off from school, they still complete the required hours and classtime which the state demands. Our classes have also been extended from 42 minutes to 57 minutes. The extra fifteen minutes each period fills this requirement.

One of the major changes this year is the loss of our homeroom periods. Many of the clubs, who used to hold meetings during this time, have been forced to meet after school and lose many members who have classes from two to four. The Yearbook Staff has found great difficulty in meeting, and collecting money and finding people who owe us write-ups, or pictures, etc. We hope that next year more clubs will be organized, and time will be found for these clubs.

1973 was a beginning for Shrewsbury High School and for the rest of the country. In September we made the news, and the headlines of the nation, and we're sure to make the headlines in June, when we show the rest of the country the results of the Four Day Week.

We are proud to say that we were a part of this revolution, and that we were all in this together.

all our lives . . .

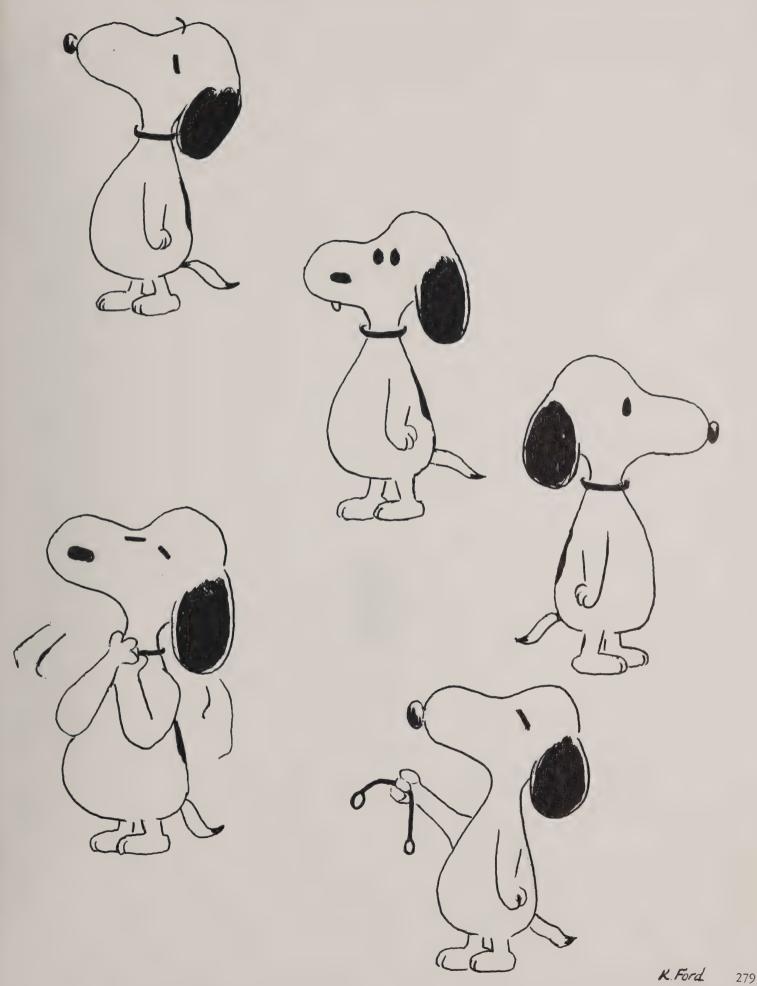

As we go through school, we don't realize how fast the time goes. I can remember when we were in first grade, and we took naps and had recess. For twelve years, we are sent to school, we make friends, enemies, we laugh, we cry, we tease, we fight, we study, we worry, we are children.

It is now 1973. Twelve years have passed since the first day of school. We are graduating. Some of us can't wait to leave, and the rest of us dread the thought of going out into the world—alone. Some of us will go on to college, some will work, some will join the service. Many of us will never see each other again. When and if we ever do see each other, we will talk about the old times, when this happened, and when that happened, and remember when?

It is a time of change, not only for Shrewsbury High, but for us. We will no longer have to get up at seven in the morning and come to school. We will be granted more responsibilities and more priveleges. We will get married, and have children. We will become a part of society and part of the establishment. But for now, we are breaking away, we no longer have a leash tied to our necks. We are going to be free to find ourselves and other people. Free to discover and reach our goals and perhaps realize what life is all about.

It matters not
What you are thought to be,
But what you are.
